Miss Selfridge Originally part of Selfridges department store, and having its first home on Duke Street in London in 1966, Miss Selfridge has grown to become an iconic brand in its own right.

The unique positioning of Miss Selfridge derives from its ‘fashion only’ proposition. Taking inspiration from vintage pieces gathered from all over the world by its team of buyers, each piece is crafted with special attention to details – ruffles, bows, fabrics and graphic prints – for a styling that is both individual and playful, but essentially feminine.

The Miss Selfridge customer is outgoing and impulsive, romantic and flirtatious. Loving newness and change, she comes to Miss Selfridge for inspirational and on-trend looks for all aspects of her life – a scene-stealing dress for nights out with friends, a smart blouse for work with a fashion twist, casual clothing that combines personality with style like playsuits, pretty dresses and delicious denim. The brand also offers a petite range with items available in sizes 4-14 for those 5ft 3” and under.

K&Co.com has over 100 years of home shopping heritage and combines three of Britain's favourite catalogues – Kays, Great Universal and Empire Stores – into one brand. So K&Co has a long established and loyal customer base who love all the exciting new things that are happening to the brand.

K&Co.com is an exciting new brand primarily aimed at 50+ women as we understand that over time, a women's shape, style and even the way her clothes fit – they all change. So K&Co.com is not the woman they were, but for the woman they are now. K&Co.com also understand that women want to look great and stylish, so it's full of flattering style that fits perfectly in sizes 6-32. At K&Co.com we truly understand the shape, size and style of today's modern women – so our Savoir Collection has been completely redefined by experts. We have considered every element – the cut of the waist, the length of the hem, the fabrics we use, how each garment hangs – so our customers can choose any Savoir piece with confidence, knowing that it will not just fit them perfectly, but flatter them as well.

Ebay shoes is a massive department with loads of bargains and cheap shoes, but that is not all as many online shoe retailers use the Ebay stores to market their products and so you can find many shoes on there which you may otherwise not find on the high street.

Don't forget to check the sellers feedback and any customer reviews. I would recommend always using the Paypal payment method for extra protection.

Shoes.co.uk is a real Shoe Shop! – with probably the easiest to remember domain name you could find for an site on the internet selling shoes!. We are not an affiliate site, a price comparison site or a discounter – we sell shoes from our UK operation based in South Manchester.

The company was set up in 2006 by two shoe trade professionals; Nigel Carr and Jackie Hodge. Nigel was the Buying Controller for Barratts Shoes working for the company for nearly 10 years in the late 80s and early 90's.

Amazon Possibly the worlds largest store and one that can be overlooked when shopping for shoes. There are thousands of items available and many of the large retailers have an Amazon store so you relly do get a huge choice.

You can even check reviews of many items and any feedback that previous customers have left.
